RESUME

Developer with hands-on experience in backend with Python (FastAPI/Django), frontend with React, and mobile development with Kotlin. I work on projects involving artificial intelligence (YOLO), along with strong involvement in DevOps and Multi-Cloud infrastructure management (AWS, GCP, Azure). I began my career as an intern at Autaza, where I was promoted to Junior Developer, assuming greater autonomy in architectural decisions and system support. I actively contribute to high-impact projects by applying CI/CD practices, security measures, and scalable solutions. I am motivated by technical challenges and continuous learning in technology.
